

Where an EXTENDS Statement Goes

An EXTENDS statement must be the first statement in the module; nothing can come between it and the module opening except for comments, which are described later. This means that a module can have at most one EXTENDS statement. That statement can be used to import multiple modules, whose names are separated by commas.

CLOSE